

ABOUT THE CCLC

The Chesapeake Conservation Landscaping Council is a coalition of individuals and organizations dedicated to researching, promoting, and educating the public about conservation-based landscaping practices to benefit the Chesapeake Bay watershed. The Council is committed to implementing best practices that result in a healthier and more beautiful environment that benefits residents and the region's biodiversity.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The Council works to advance the following principles:

- ✿ Build a diverse and broad coalition of public and private sector groups and leaders and homeowners;
- ✿ Reach a broader market to strengthen the macro economic benefits of conservation landscaping;
- ✿ Influence the setting of standards that define good conservation landscaping practices;
- ✿ Inform and educate public policy decision makers to advance conservation landscaping activities.

GOAL

The long term goal of the Conservation Landscaping Council is to advance conservation landscaping practices that have significant ecological benefits for communities throughout the Chesapeake Bay Watershed. To achieve larger-scale conservation landscapes, the Council considers a range of strategies and advances those deemed most desirable to achieve its goal. Strategies may range from public outreach campaigns, to advancing progressive public policies, to developing model best practices to demonstrate the benefits of conservation landscaping on small and large scales, to encouraging landscaping retailers to carry and promote native plant material and conservation practices.

Our "first clients" are the professionals in the conservation-landscaping-related fields, including environmental organizations; federal, state and local agencies; land planners; landscapers; nursery people; developers; Master Gardeners; and landscape architects.

The role of CCLC is that of providing tools and information, convening discussions and learning opportunities, and serving as spokesperson to aid professionals in the field to do a better job of advancing small and large scale conservation landscaping practices.
